Method of study (for example, lectures, seminars, work placements); expected:	In line with Government regulations teaching and learning in the 2020 Summer Term at BOVTS was delivered online prompting a lot of innovative practice. In line with current Government regulations, it is anticipated that teaching and learning in 2020-21 will be a blend of online virtual learning (retaining the innovative practice developed in the 2020 Summer Term) and face to face learning. The exact mix will be kept under review as Government regulations change and communicated to you in advance. The course is largely practical but with a theoretical underpinning. It is taught through practical classes, workshops, lectures, projects and coaching/teaching observation and practice.

	Coaching/teaching practice takes place either within the School in tutorial or class settings, on student productions in theatres or in other professional contexts outside the School. Teaching is provided by highly specialised tutors and subject practitioners in small groups. Increasingly much of the information and some of the content of the course is available via the School's Virtual Learning Environment and so you will benefit from having access to your own personal computer and the internet to make the most of your course.

Any extra costs (in addition to fees) which students may have to pay to complete the course and estimated cost:	The School does have a number of computer terminals that are dedicated to students. However, increasingly much of the information and some of the content of the course is available via the School's virtual learning environment and so it will be important for you to have your own personal computer and access to the internet to make the most of your course. It is estimated that a suitable personal computer will cost £300.00. (Please check with the Course leader for recommended functionality.) You will need to research the most cost effective way of accessing the internet. The School has a number of means tested scholarship funds available to assist students with purchases of computer hardware and other essential costs which would otherwise cause financial hardship.
