Background to the Theatre School

The Theatre School celebrated its 75th year anniversary in 2021. The School trains students in acting, design, costume, technical skills, writing and directing. It operates across three sites in Bristol: the main Downside Rd site in Clifton, the centre for Film, TV and Audio production at Christchurch Studios, and the scenic workshops in south Bristol.

Oscar-winning alumni include Sir Daniel Day-Lewis (Best Actor in 1990, 2008 and 2013), Jeremy Irons (Best Actor, 1991) and Olivia Colman (Best Actress, 2019). The accolade of three Best Actor/Actress Oscar winners amongst the graduates of a single drama school is, to our knowledge, unmatched at any higher education institution globally. Both the Artistic Director and Deputy Artistic Director of the Royal Shakespeare Company are BOVTS alumni (Gregory Doran and Erica Whyman, respectively) as is the intimacy coordinator Ita O'Brien, who has been recognised for her pioneering work on award-winning dramas such as Normal People, I May Destroy You and Gentleman Jack for the BBC, and Sex Education for Netflix.

The success of BOVTS graduates and the quality of the School's training is reflected in fierce competition for places. In the 2021-entry admissions cycle, the School received 2,329 applications for the 28 places on its BA (Hons) Professional Acting course, a 70% increase on the number received just a decade before. All applicants are guaranteed to be seen at a preliminary audition. On average over the past three admissions rounds, just 1.8% of applicants to this course have been made an offer of a place.

Student productions take place across the City: along with those at Bristol Old Vic Theatre (our main partner), they are also performed in local venues, including the Tobacco Factory theatres, Circomedia in St Pauls, the Redgrave Theatre in Clifton, and the Wardrobe Theatre in Old Market.

The School also has a thriving Sunday Youth Theatre group and runs a range of summer short courses in acting; it is a BFI academy, regularly running short courses in Film Production training for 16-18 age students.

Governance at Bristol Old Vic Theatre School

In addition to the Council of Trustees there are sub-committees of the Trustees – the Audit Committee and the Finance Committee. Terms of reference can be found at: oldvic.ac.uk/about-us/staff-governors.

Through its membership of the Conservatoire for Dance and Drama (cdd.ac.uk), there is a direct reporting line to the CDD Board of Governors in terms of academic standards, internal audit and financial year-end reporting. CDD is the Higher Education Provider registered with the Office for Students that enables BOVTS and the other five CDD member schools to operate within higher education. Information about the CDD strategy can be found at: cdd.ac.uk/about-us/how-we-work/strategic-plan-2019-24.

The School's current higher education courses are validated by the University of the West of England (UWE). The validation relationship with UWE is governed by an academic agreement renewed every five years and subject to regular reporting on academic standards. The School is an associate school of UWE, and sits within the Arts, Creative Industries and Education faculty.

In July 2020 the Theatre School's Board resolved that the Theatre School would leave CDD with effect from July 2022. The Board and Principal & CEO have identified that UWE are their preferred Higher Education Provider and are in the advanced stages of discussion over the shape and model for our enhanced future collaboration. The shared vision:

Bristol Old Vic Theatre School (BOVTS) and UWE, Bristol will form an enhanced strategic partnership with a shared vision to deliver sector-leading performance skills and training.

More information about this role

The School is a busy and vibrant place with experienced and committed tutors and talented students. Students are told that their first day at the Theatre School is the first day of their professional career, and their training reflects this.

With the appointment of the Principal & CEO, Fiona Francombe, in August 2020, this is a time of positioning and planning the Theatre School for its future. There are challenges and opportunities in equal measure and every aspect of the School will need to adapt and be open to positive change.

Fiona will be leading on this work, working closely with Trustees to take the School in the direction it needs to go, realising the strategic objectives and negotiating the new partnership with UWE, whilst also running the School on a day-to-day basis.

The Artistic Director, Jenny Stephens, will continue to develop the School's creative work – appointing visiting directors and designers, choosing the productions and supporting the School's strategy.

The Finance Director, David Lawton, will maintain oversight of the School's financial health, focusing attention on a future with a proposed reduction in Institution-Specific Targeted Allocation (ISTA) funding, and supporting Trustees from a Company Secretary point of view.

The successful candidate will be motivational teacher who is an experienced and highly-skilled movement teacher. You will enjoy working as part of a team and be able to build positive relationships with fellow members of staff and students. You will be flexible in your approach as well as be excited by the ever-changing landscape in both actor training and the acting industry. You will have a strong commitment to enhancing equality, diversity and inclusivity throughout training as well as, developing our collective knowledge of a wide variety movement and creative practices.

You will be highly organised, adaptable, flexible, patient, self-motivated and happy to step into a busy, chaotic and friendly workplace. All our staff are dedicated, hard-working and supportive of each other at all times. They are accepting and welcoming to everyone and are innate problem solvers and enablers. Their commitment has given the students a very high level of training during lockdown and a level of support and care that enabled those students to remain happy, healthy and engaged.

Our students are very talented, dedicated, and challenging of the School and of themselves. Our student reps make sure student voices are heard. Task and finish groups ensure progress is made in key areas. Regular meetings and open and robust discussion have led to changes and to insight into all aspects of School life from mutual perspectives. This provides opportunities for our students to experience how to challenge in a professional way, to listen and to continue the journey towards becoming valued members of the wider industry.

Work arrangements

The Theatre School is committed to helping its employees achieve a balance between their working life and other priorities such as parental and caring responsibilities, leisure activities, charity work and other interests. We will, as far as possible, support employees in suitable roles to work more flexibly – whether in the hours they work or where they work. In return we ask that careful consideration of the impact of working flexibly is given, and that a mutual agreement is reached that works well for both the Theatre School and the employee.

Please note the role is part-time, teaching 2 days per week - totalling 16 hours. Routine classes will be scheduled every week on a termly basis; some rehearsals outside these hours will be required when working on shows or rehearsals. Some occasional weekend and evening work may be required.

Being present in the School's buildings during the day for some of the working week will be necessary to enable the employee to feel part of the School and to help with communication and the flow of information.

Equality, Diversity & Inclusion

The School recognises that its Trustees and staff cohort is not representative of Bristol, and the 91 languages spoken in the city. On the student body, the acting courses have a 30% representation, however, technical and creative courses have as low as 5% representation.

Over the last few years the School has changed a lot of its practices, which include (but aren't limited to) introducing more visiting external tutors and lecturers from diverse backgrounds, discovering more modern and representative writers for the students to study, and providing extensive training to staff on helping under-represented groups express themselves whilst training in a creative environment.

The new Principal is most concerned that all students, but particularly those who are unrepresented in the School, feel that they belong in a City that is facing its own challenges through BLM and its history. They must also know that the School accepts that it has its own journey to take, and that we want and need them to join us on that journey.

An Equality, Diversity & Inclusion Action Group has been established, made up of staff and members of the Student Representation Group to work towards bringing about genuine, effective and long-standing change.
